

SWAB YOUR CHEEK FOR ELISSA

Elissa and others like her need YOUR help.

Elissa is a 26-year old woman who has been fighting Hodgkin's Lymphoma since graduating from college 4 years ago. This winter, she fulfilled her life long dream of being accepted to Rabbinical School. Just two days later, she learned that her cancer had returned: her dream, deferred. Her only hope for a cure is a stem cell transplant from a genetically-matched donor. But as the granddaughter of four Holocaust survivors, Elissa has little family to test for a match. We need your help for Elissa and the many other patients like her in need of a stem cell or bone marrow transplant!
