

COULD YOU BE MARC'S HERO?

Marc is a husband and father of four wonderful children, the youngest being only 1 year old. He was diagnosed with a RARE & AGGRESSIVE form of Anaplastic Large Cell Lymphoma ALK+, a form of blood cancer. A transplant from a unrelated donor is ESSENTIAL for his survival. He needs the transplant immediately while he is in remission because of the aggressiveness of the disease. His cancer came back within 7 months of his last transplant using his own stem cells.. His best chance of finding a genetically matched donor to save him lies with those of Eastern European ancestry, particularly Polish and Hungarian. Other patients of many backgrounds are also hoping to find a matching donor and receive a life saving transplant. Support them at this upcoming event!
