One ge Night GIFT OF LIFE

Gift of Life wishes to recognize Legacy Heritage Fund for their generous support and dedication to our lifesaving mission.

ABOUT GIFT OF LIFE

At Gift of Life Marrow Registry we believe every person battling blood cancer deserves a second chance at life — and we are determined to make it happen. We are singularly passionate about engaging the public to help us get everyone involved in curing blood cancer, whether as a donor, a volunteer or a financial supporter. It all begins with one remarkable person, one life-changing swab and one huge win — finding a match and a cure.

Thank you for your support!

A HUGE THANKS TO THIS EVENING'S DONORS

A message from the FOUNDER & CEO

Dear Friends,

It's a very exciting time in cancer research and treatment. Innovation is taking place at lightning speed, and many new therapies involve harnessing the power of the body's immune system to battle disease.

Not many people realize that immune-based therapy is actually rooted in marrow transplantation. Immune cells from the donor, transferred to the patient via the transplant, play an important role in destroying cancer cells that were not killed by chemotherapy or radiation. Our understanding of this anti-tumor effect has fueled many of the exciting advances we hear about in the news today.

Gift of Life is also actively raising the bar in this field. We are refining the match process using full gene sequencing, diversifying recruitment to align with changes in population genetics, and enrolling donors through the use of paperless, digital mobile registration.

But that's just the beginning. Tonight I am thrilled to announce plans to establish a state of the art, registry-integrated stem cell collection facility for our donors, and a BioBank of "off the shelf" frozen cells available to patients at a moment's notice. At the same time, we are working to leverage our infrastructure to advance cutting edge biotherapies with our transplant network and commercial industry. Everything we are doing has a singular goal: to save more lives. This gala provides the financial resources we need to make all of these exciting initiatives possible and will serve to motivate registries all over the world to follow our lead. But we can't do it without you. Tonight I ask you to give generously to our expansion campaign, and together we will take a leadership role saving lives.

DONOR-RECIPIENT MEETING 200th donor recruited through Taglit-Birthright Israel

PRESENTED BY THOMAS D. STERN Chairman of the Board, Birthright Israel Foundation

DESSERT RECEPTION

Together, they are philanthropic powerhouses, noted for their generous support of charities benefiting the State of Israel and the Jewish people...

Dr. Miriam and Sheldon G. Adelson

Then Dr. Miriam and Sheldon G. Adelson commit to a cause, they do it from the heart. When they learned in 2008 about Gift of Life's mission to cure blood cancers through marrow and stem cell transplants, they saw the opportunity to make an impact.

More than 90% of the donors requested by transplant centers are between 18 and 25 years old because young donors naturally produce more stem cells, meaning a greater success rate for transplant recipients. The organization works constantly to find ways to connect with young donors, and in 2004 formed a partnership with Taglit-Birthright Israel with the objective of inviting every young man and woman on their Birthright trip to join the registry. But with thousands of participants from the United States every year, how could Gift of Life which doesn't receive government funding - process their swab kits?

The Adelson Family Foundation was already deeply involved in supporting Birthright, helping to increase the number of young people who could be accommodated each year. When the Adelsons learned of the connection between Gift of Life and Birthright, they saw opportunity: not only would they support bringing young people to Israel to connect with their Jewish heritage, they set a goal of inviting every Birthright participant to join the marrow registry and save lives. Miriam and Sheldon became major benefactors of the Gift of Life-Birthright partnership, and the results speak for themselves. To date, more than 65,000 Birthright participants have joined the registry, over 1,600 matches have been found between patients and potential donors, and an astonishing 209 potentially lifesaving transplants have been completed. We expect many more transplants to be completed in the future.

Dr. Adelson graduated from Tel Aviv University's Sackler Faculty of Medicine and originally specialized in internal and emergency medicine. Since 1986, she has devoted her time to researching and treating drug abuse and the biology of addiction, including establishing drug clinics in Las Vegas and Tel Aviv.

Sheldon Adelson is one of the world's most successful entrepreneurs, having worked his way up from a childhood newspaper route to Chairman of the Board and CEO of Las Vegas Sands Corp., the world's largest casino operator.

IDAN Recipient

dan was only eight months old when he started having trouble breathing. His parents, Akiva and Amanda rushed him to the doctor, and then to the hospital. He was infected with pneumocystis pneumonia, a rare and often deadly fungal disease that only attacks those with compromised immune systems. After a three-week hospitalization to clear the pneumonia, the underlying cause of this unusual illness was found. Idan had an extremely rare defect in his immune system, X-Linked Hyper IgM Syndrome (Hyper IgM). Life expectancy without treatment is only 24 years, and most of that would have to be lived in isolation to prevent infection. Only one in every two million boys is affected.

His parents turned for help to the Seattle Cancer Care Alliance, the same place where Gift of Life founder Jay Feinberg was treated for leukemia. They offered a spark of hope: a bone marrow transplant could potentially cure the condition and Idan could live a normal life.

But for those with Hyper IgM, the possibility of rejecting the transplant is higher than most. On the positive side, the chance of recovery and survival is highest if the child is 5 years old or under when transplant occurs. Akiva and Amanda knew they had to try. They had tremendous support from family and friends, and said, "We were embraced by the Jewish community in Seattle and felt at home there. Our family in New York took care of our apartment – we feel very blessed."

THE

made this match

As they searched for other parents of children with Hyper IgM, Akiva and Amanda met Robin and Evan Fineman, Gift of Life advocates since 2010 whose son Ezra (Help4Ezra Donor Circle) also suffered from the condition, but is now healthy post-transplant.

Finding a perfect marrow match can be difficult. Family members are tested first due to a 30% chance that a sibling will be a perfect match. However, like 70% of others awaiting transplants, no one in Idan's family could donate for him. A search of the international marrow registry found a match, and in 2013 Idan received a transplant. However, his body did not accept the first transplant.

Idan was fortunate that another matching donor was already a registered member of Gift of Life Marrow Registry. His second transplant happened in July 2016 the day before his fourth birthday, "The arrival of the cells was an incredibly meaningful and emotional experience

- a small bag of hope and the promise of a long life," said Akiva. This time around, the transplant resulted in a functioning immune system for Idan. Success!

dan's donor is Alex Weiss, 22, who says of donating, "It's not every day that you can donate a little bit of your blood and save someone from so much suffering and pain. Stem cell donation is very easy and only takes one day to complete." Alex is originally from Weston, Fla. and he graduated from the University of Michigan – Ann Arbor this past spring with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in finance. He has relocated to New York to work at JP Morgan as an analyst in the private bank division.

Alex first swabbed his cheek and joined Gift of Life's registry during his Birthright trip to Israel while a freshman in college. "Gift of Life made a compelling speech to my Birthright group," said Alex. "After hearing the amazing stories of other donors, I thought there would be no harm in being tested – it was an easy cheek swab that took very little time."

"I never thought in a million years that I would be a match for a patient, let alone a three-year-old boy," said Alex. "I felt overcome with joy and happiness that I could help save someone's life. I had this amazing, rare opportunity and this was something I could not turn down." He was initially worried that it would be difficult to get the time off work, but got great support from his boss and family. On his day of donation, Alex's mom and sister accompanied him and sat with him during the procedure, along with his Gift of Life coordinator, who checked on him often, asked how he was doing, and made sure everything was seamless. It usually takes four to six hours to collect enough stem cells for an adult, but this is often a shorter time for children.

Alex has thought often about his recipient since his day of donation, and was thrilled to get good news a few months later. "I prayed that he was doing well and that the transplant took properly. Once I heard that the stem cells engrafted and he was doing well, I was in complete awe. I could not believe my stem cells helped save this child's life!" said Alex. "But more than anything I am excited to meet the little guy and get to know him!"

The match between Idan and Alex was made possible by the Adelson Family Foundation Donor Circle. Through a donor circle, contributors have a personal fundraising portal that shows in real time the funds raised, donor kits sponsored, patient matches and completed transplants.

JON Recipient

r. Jon Perlman thought of himself as being very healthy, so when he began experiencing shortness of breath, severe bruising, and extreme fatigue, he visited his doctor. In April 2017 during Passover he received a diagnosis of Acute Myelogenous Leukemia (AML).

A psychologist in Sudbury, Mass., Dr. Perlman, 68, has been married for 42 years to Fran, a retired special needs teacher, and they have two sons and five grandchildren. A graduate of Boston University, Dr. Perlman has been a licensed psychologist since 1979. He currently provides therapy for adults, adolescents and couples, and was previously the Senior Psychologist for 15 years at Framingham Medical Associates.

to Gift of Life's registry to search for a match, and fortunately, a matching donor was already registered and waiting to be called.

eth Benzell, 27, a native of Springfield, N.J., joined Gift of Life as a volunteer donor during his Birthright trip to Israel in January 2012. "Gift of Life spoke to our Birthright group, and I remember thinking that joining the registry would be a great thing to do," said Seth. "They said it was fairly rare to actually be a perfect immune system match for someone else."

The challenge in finding perfect donors is that the inherited immune factors used to determine matches have millions of possible combinations. This means the best chance of finding a match is with someone who shares a similar ancestry.

His family was very worried about his prognosis. Dr. Perlman's best chance for survival was a stem cell transplant, but although his family members volunteered to donate, none of them were close enough matches, yet he remained optimistic that an unrelated donor could be found. His doctors turned

After joining Gift of Life, Seth stayed busy for the next five years, earning undergraduate degrees in Physics and Mathematics and in Economics from Tulane University and a PhD in Economics from Boston University. Then right after his graduation in May 2017, his parents started receiving persistent phone calls from a number in Boca Raton, Fla. "They hung up on Gift of Life about five times because they didn't know I had joined the registry," Seth said.

Once Seth learned he had the opportunity to save someone's life, he simply asked what he needed to do – and just a thorough medical exam later, he was ready! On his day of collection, Seth met his Gift of Life coordinator at the donation center, and he said everything went well. Seth's donation was the 200th marrow transplant resulting from the Gift of Life-Birthright Israel partnership, which has added more than 65,000 volunteer donors to the registry. He left his collection wishing his recipient the best and hoping they would be able to meet someday.

Seth's stem cells were taken to the Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston, where Dr. Perlman and his family were waiting for the transplant. Because donors and recipients must remain anonymous for the first year after transplant, the two men did not know each other's identities. "I was happy when the stem cells arrived knowing that they would save my life," Dr. Perlman said. "I had a difficult time with chemotherapy, but the transplant went smoothly." He has returned to work at his psychology practice, and is thankful that Gift of Life found his donor. He's also curious to learn what motivated Seth to join the registry. They will have plenty of opportunity to talk after their first meeting, as they only live 20 miles from each other.

Seth is currently working as a postdoctoral associate at the MIT Initiative on the Digital Economy, as he prepares to become a professor of economics. "I would absolutely donate again, this experience is awesome," said Seth. "Being a donor offers a higher upside than other forms of volunteering – you can save someone's life and then maybe meet them! If you want to do something to help other people at a low cost to yourself, do this."

The match between Jon and Seth was made possible by the Stu's Family and Friends Donor Circle. Through a donor circle, contributors have a personal fundraising portal that shows in real time the funds raised, donor kits sponsored, patient matches and completed transplants.

IN HONOR OF WENDY SIEGEL DONOR CIRCLE

made this match possible.

R when his parents Jenny and Merlin Kemp, residents of Edinburgh, Scotland, received devastating news: he was suffering from an extremely rare form of Acute Myeloid Leukemia. Instead of affecting the bone marrow, extramedullary AML appears as tumors – in Rory's case, in his skull. After many tests, scans and treatments of chemotherapy, a bone marrow transplant was recommended in the hopes of curing him.

The Kemps and their medical team turned to Anthony Nolan, the public bone marrow registry in the United Kingdom, to search for a matching donor. Both Anthony Nolan and Gift of Life Marrow Registry are members of the World Marrow Donor Association, making their registries available for search worldwide.

Rory's match, Christopher Mattson of Penn Valley, Pennsylvania, was found in Gift of Life's registry after a six-month search. He had joined the registry when he was 24 years old during a donor recruitment drive at his workplace, the Philadelphia Country Club.

Just over a year later, Chris received a call from Gift of Life telling him that he was a match for a young boy in desperate need of a lifesaving transplant. Chris was ready. He donated bone marrow in December 2014, and the cells were immediately hand carried by courier to Edinburgh, arriving at the transplant center in

MARROW TRANSPLANT RECIPIENT

After helping Gift of Life to light up the Empire State Building in orange in honor of the worldwide day of recognition for donors, Rory (now 13) and Chris > were introduced during a live broadcast on NY1 Spectrum News. Chris and Rory hit it off and became fast friends, and this summer Chris and his parents visited Rory and his family in Edinburgh.

Rory is not only a cancer survivor, he's a remarkable young man. He loves music, mathematics and science – and even memorized the entire periodic table at age 5. Although he missed three years of school, he continued learning. While undergoing chemotherapy, he took a coding class from a University in Hong Kong, achieving a 100% mark.

Rory is also a talented musician, after discovering he has a natural talent while "messing around" with a friend's piano. He has attended a specialist music school and has been playing at concerts since age 12, including the Queen's Hall in Edinburgh and several music festivals. He won the under-13 piano medal in the Edinburgh Competition Festival.

With great pleasure, Gift of Life has invited Rory to share his piano talents with us tonight. He is three years in remission, and wants to go to university as soon as possible. We look forward to amazing things from this incredibly talented and composed young man.

The match between Rory and Chris was made possible by the In Honor of Wendy Siegel Donor Circle. Through a donor circle, contributors have a personal fundraising portal that shows in real time the funds raised, donor kits sponsored, patient matches and completed transplants.

Glasgow at midnight. Rory received his transplant, and after two years of recovery was able to return to school. He remained in high spirits throughout his ordeal.

"He is full of humor and nonsense and has smiled throughout everything. He is immensely brave and cheerful," said Jenny. "He just got on with whatever needed to be done in the hospital, and often had a laugh and a joke. I'm very proud of him."

Over time, as Chris wondered about his recipient, Rory, his parents and sister were also wondering about him – Who was this amazing donor? Where did he live? They got the chance to find out in 2017, when Gift of Life arranged to fly the Kemps to New York to be introduced to Chris on World Marrow Donor Day.

Congratulations to Dr. Miriam and Sheldon Adelson!

Shari Redstone and National Amusements are proud to honor this year's Partners for Life Award, for their lifesaving support of Gift of Life and its partnership with Birthright. Thanks to their compassion and generosity, blood cancer patients around the world have been given a second chance at life.

GALA HONORARY CHAIRS BIOGRAPHY

Shari Redstone

November 2, 2016 wasn't any ordinary Wednesday: it was One Huge Day, Gift of Life's online matching gift challenge presented by Shari Redstone, Vice Chair, CBS and Viacom, and Co-Founder and Managing Partner, Advancit Capital. With just one phone call, the challenge was made – attract $50,000 in online donations in 24 hours, and that number would be matched anonymously by her. The goal was not only met early in the day, it was easily surpassed, with over $170,000 raised! As a result of Ms. Redstone's support, 6,156 new donors have joined the registry, with 121 potential matches identified, leading to 15 transplants to date! In 2017, Gift of Life presented Ms. Redstone with the Partners for Life Award in recognition of her tremendous impact.

Ms. Redstone is a media executive with a wide-ranging background in numerous aspects of the entertainment industry and related ventures. In 2011, she co-founded the investment firm Advancit Capital, which focuses on early stage companies at the intersection of media, entertainment and technology. Advancit is an investor in more than 75 companies.

Among additional leadership roles, she currently serves as President of National Amusements, Co-Chairman of MovieTickets.com and is a member of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee for the National Theatre Owners Association.

Ms. Redstone earned a B.S. degree from Tufts University, and a J.D. degree and a Masters in Tax Law from Boston University. She practiced corporate law, estate planning and criminal law in the Boston area before joining National Amusements.

Ms. Redstone is actively involved in a variety of charitable, civic, and educational organizations. She is a member of the Board of Directors at Combined Jewish Philanthropies and the John F. Kennedy Library Foundation, and sits on the Board of Trustees at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

Most recently, Ms. Redstone joined the Legal Services Corporation's Leaders Council, which seeks to raise awareness of the crisis in civil legal aid and secure equal access to justice. She is also on the Local Advisory Board and Executive Committee for BUILD, a non-profit organization which uses entrepreneurship to propel low income youth through high school and into college.

HONORING DR. MIRIAM AND SHELDON G. ADELSON

It's a special privilege to help honor my dear friends Miri and Sheldon Adelson as we gather to support the lifesaving work of Gift of Life. I've known Miri and Sheldon for thirty years and have seen them go from strength to strength and from success to success creating and supporting initiatives that have strengthened Israel and the Jewish people and are already changing the shape of the Jewish future. At the same time their commitment to medical research and to the fight against addiction and substance abuse is saving lives today and promising more medical breakthroughs in the future.

Miri and Sheldon have a special talent for finding strategic opportunities to make the greatest difference for the Jewish people and for humankind.

Their support for Gift of Life will make all the difference helping this lifesaving organization make their next breakthrough toward their ultimate goal: 100% successful lifesaving matches.

Thanks and appreciation to Sheldon and Miri for being great friends and amazing leaders.

GALA HONORARY CHAIRS BIOGRAPHY

Barry Shrage

Barry Shrage is Professor of the Practice in the Hornstein Jewish Professional Leadership Program at Brandeis University to further the Hornstein program's mission to train future Jewish professional leaders. He has been an advocate of Gift of Life since he joined the registry at a drive for Jay Feinberg in 1992.

One of America's foremost Jewish leaders, Barry for the past 30 years served with distinction as president of Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston and as a powerful voice on the American Jewish communal scene. He is known in Boston and throughout the world for his tireless support of Jewish education; his promotion of engagement by religious and nonreligious Jews; his commitment to working for social justice at home and abroad alongside others; his strong support of Israel; his bridge-building, outreach and engagement with the non-Jewish community in creative partnerships; and for his boundless energy and creativity.

Barry has been instrumental in the creation of several cutting-edge programs designed to engage the next generation in meaningful Jewish life and create a welcoming, inclusive Jewish community. Projects include Me'ah, an intensive Jewish adult education curriculum, and Parenting Through a Jewish Lens, a Jewish learning program for parents of young children. Pioneered in Boston, both programs are now being replicated nationwide. Barry also spearheaded a successful incentive grant program that supports Jewish overnight camp opportunities for children. He helped Boston's Peerless Excellence and Affordability projects for Jewish day schools, and he initiated innovative efforts aimed at strengthening synagogues and synagogue schools.

Barry is one of Israel's most passionate and effective advocates in Boston. More than 20 years ago, he helped establish the Boston-Haifa Connection, a sister city relationship that has resulted in mutually beneficial social programs. Barry was among the first Federation leaders to embrace the power of Birthright Israel and has worked to send 11,000 Boston-area college students on free trips to Israel. CJP's IACT Campus Initiative has become a national model that empowers students to become lifelong advocates for Israel.

During the Great Recession, Barry helped to develop CJP's Economic Response, which provided additional funding to meet the needs of the most vulnerable, including isolated seniors, immigrants, the unemployed, and people with disabilities.

After graduating from City College of New York, Barry earned a master's degree in social work from Boston University. He and his wife, Ellie, live in Newton, Mass., where they raised their two children. They have five grandchildren.

She served as FIDF National President as well as Chairman. Presently Nily is FIDF National Chairman Emeritus and continues to serve on the National Board of Directors and Executive Committee of the FIDF in the U.S.A and Panama. Nily and her family are passionate advocates and supporters of the State of Israel and all good causes.

Wendy Siegel

Wendy Siegel, transplant recipient, has been involved with Gift of Life for more than six years as a supporter and an incredible advocate for the mission. In January, 2012, Wendy was diagnosed with Acute Myeloid Leukemia (AML), a rare form of leukemia affecting less than one percent of the population in the United States. While undergoing treatment, Wendy started looking for ways to help others who are battling AML or other blood cancers. She and her husband, Stephen, began organizing and supporting the all-important swabbing drives that bring new donors into the registry. The "In Honor of Wendy Siegel" Donor Circle was formed by her family and friends which, to date, has added 72,746 new donors to the registry, raised over $4 million to test their swab kits, found 529 matches and completed 63 transplants. Wendy currently co- chairs the National Council of Trustees for National Jewish Health. She co-founded the New York University Medical Center Pediatric Foundation (KIDS of NYU), is a Director of the Cape Eleuthera Foundation, and is a member of the board of the 92nd Street Y. She also served as a board member of the Horace Mann School and Central Synagogue. Wendy continues to inspire others through her leadership and ongoing efforts to help those battling cancer.

MASTER OF CEREMONIES

Stephen B. Siegel

Stephen B. Siegel is CBRE's Chairman of Global Brokerage and a member of Gift of Life Marrow Registry's board of directors. With his wife Wendy, a transplant survivor, he is an active and dedicated advocate of the organization.

In his role at CBRE, he advises major corporations and property owners on a broad range of real estate strategies. Widely regarded as one of the industry's most talented and prolific professionals, he has been called "a powerhouse," "an icon," "a game changer," and "the most legendary and revered broker still plying the trade in New York." CBRE Inc., a Fortune 500 and S&P 500 company headquartered in Los Angeles, is the world's largest commercial real estate services and investment firm (based on 2016 revenue). Services offered include facilities, transaction and project management, property management, investment management, appraisal and valuation, property leasing, strategic consulting, property sales, mortgage services, and developmental services.

Throughout his distinguished career, Mr. Siegel has arranged multimillion dollar transactions for some of the nation's most prominent corporate clients. He sits on numerous nonprofit boards – 16 at one point – and has endowed fellowships at leading institutions including the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law. He has received honorary doctorates from Baruch College and Yeshiva University, among others. Honored by innumerable organizations ranging from the Albert Einstein College of Medicine to the Lower East Side Tenement Museum to Israel Bonds, Mr. Siegel was recently celebrated along with fellow honorees Queen Latifah and Danny Meyer for his contributions to the Young Women's Leadership Network's CollegeBound Initiative. Mr. Siegel has also been honored with Commercial Property News' Lifetime Achievement Award and has received prestigious industry awards from The Real Estate Board of New York (REBNY) and New York University's Real Estate Initiative.

In February 2018, Mr. Siegel was honored with a Toast by The Real Deal, a fundraiser that benefited Gift of Life.

CORPORATE PARTNER AWARD

Brookfield

The Steps for Life 5k Run and Walk of New York City was on the verge of cancellation on October 29, 2017, due to 70 mph winds and flooding rains. As the large storm swamped the East Coast, Gift of Life was faced with the probability of cancelling this important fundraising event when Brookfield Properties stepped in, offering the Brookfield Place office and retail complex to house the event. Emails and texts quickly went out to participants, who arrived to walk indoors that morning to further Gift of Life's mission. Brookfield has also supported Gift of Life with financial contributions and donor recruitment drives at its corporate offices.

Brookfield Properties

Gift of Life's Partnership with Taglit-Birthright Israel

aglit-Birthright Israel was founded in 1999 by philanthropists Charles Bronfman and Michael Steinhardt to offer young Jewish adults between 18 and 26 years old the opportunity for a free, ten-day educational trip to Israel.

Since 2004, Gift of Life Marrow Registry has partnered with Birthright to offer participants a way to pay it forward by volunteering as bone marrow and peripheral blood stem cell donors. Tour groups are visited by a Gift of Life representative who explains the mission to cure blood cancer and offers the opportunity to join the registry with a simple cheek swab.

"Many of our participants say that their visit to Israel changed their lives," said Birthright's International CEO, Gidi Mark. "Through our partnership with Gift of Life, we are not only changing lives, but also saving lives. It's really something that cannot be compared to any other mitzvah."

Peter saved Etty's life

In the past 14 years, more than 65,000 new donors have joined the registry during their Birthright trip, resulting to date in more than 1,600 matches between patients and donors that have resulted in 209 completed transplants. We expect many more to lives to be saved in the years to come.

"Gift of Life's partnership with Birthright was initiated during a conversation between me and Birthright's co-founder Charles Bronfman," said Feinberg. "We felt strongly that the program's participants should have an opportunity to give back in some way for their free trip to Israel. They are generous beyond all expectations. We are always awestruck by the eagerness of these remarkable young people to help save the lives of total strangers."

EXPANSION CAMPAIGN Spring 2019

Gift of Life Marrow Registry is growing and we are embarking on an exciting move: we will relocate to a new, larger headquarters in Boca Raton, Florida in March 2019.

Our new offices will include an on-premises Stem Cell Collection Center, the only one in our area to serve the registry's donors! By opening a Collection Center in Boca Raton, we add the capacity to conduct collections in the Southeastern region, helping to save as many lives as possible.

GIFTOFLIFE.ORG | 27

EXPANSION CAMPAIGN

INVEST IN SAVING LIVES

We invite you to join us on this journey as we build a new home and provide many more patients battling blood cancer and inherited immune disorders with uplifting hope and the possibility for a cure.

Through the Gift of Life Expansion Campaign you may invest in the future of a deeply needed service. Gift of Life has completed more than 3,300 transplants, and every person whose life is saved by a marrow or stem cell transplant is part of a family and a community that also benefits.

Campaign Chairs William A. Begal Stephen R. Colen, D.D.S., M.D.

NAMING OPPORTUNITIES

Gift of Life is known for its passion for innovation, quality and service. Your support will enable Gift of Life to help save many more lives in the years to come.

To help identify the appropriate naming opportunity, sponsorship or in-kind donation, please contact:

Robyn Malek, Director of Development 561.982.2900

WHY A NEW, LARGER LOCATION?

- Gift of Life recruitment activities continue to grow with a current goal of adding 50,000 donors annually.
- The number of new donors added to the registry each year has a direct impact on transplant volume in subsequent years. A larger location will accommodate a growing staff in support of recruitment and case management.
- Gift of Life's biorepository of donor samples is rapidy growing and requires additional space.
- Improve efficiency, streamline operations and increase service level to patients, transplant centers and donors.
- A new, state of the art, registry-integrated stem cell collection facility will be the only one in our area to serve the registry's donors.

RECOGNITION OF ARLENE AND JACK FEINBERG

Honoring the lives and legacies of Gift of Life's Founders

Arlene and Jack Feinberg

of blessed memory

Because they wouldn't take NO for an answer during Jay's search for a donor, thousands of patients have been given a second chance at life, including tonight's donors and recipients.

Arlene and Jack's most profound wish was that no patient ever die for lack of a matching donor for the transplant they so urgently need. By supporting Gift of Life, you help that vision become a reality and give hope to every patient in need.

The Trustees and Staff of the Adelson Family Foundation congratulate Gift of Life Marrow Registry for its lifesaving work and salute the organization for its long-standing partnership with Taglit-Birthright Israel.

ADELSON FAMILY FOUNDATION

MEET O

"Whoever saves a life, saves the world."

Dr. Miriam and Sheldon Adelson have saved countless lives, with a generosity that knows no bounds.

They are heroes of people in need, who are guided by a deep sense of doing good according to Jewish tradition.

Fondly, Haim and Cheryl Saban

We are thrilled to celebrate Gift of Life Marrow Registry's 27th Anniversary of saving lives. Honoring Dr. Miriam & Sheldon G. Adelson, recognizing Brookfield, and congratulating tonight's bone marrow donors and their recipients.

> Mitzi & Warren Eisenberg

Exactly 24 years ago tonight I traveled to Minsk to search for Jay's miracle match.

24 years later it is our pleasure to support an incredible organization.

With love, Billy, Kira and Isaac David

DONOR CIRCLES personalized giving

Donor Circles were created by Gift of Life to help contributors personalize a group of donors through a customizable team page. Donor Circles track activity in real time, including financial contributions, the number of donors sponsored by the circle, donor/recipient matches found, and most importantly – the number of lifesaving transplants completed.

Donor Circles may be public or private, and offer social media tools to help circle owners publicize their fundraising efforts. Start your donor circle and watch your impact grow.

In Celebration of Dr. Miriam Adelson,

An extraordinary Woman of Valor "Eshet Chayil"

Dear Miriam, My warmest wishes for a Happy Birthday and many happy and blessed returns of this day in good health together with your dear husband, Sheldon.

May the love you have shown to others return to you, multiplied.

Mazal Tov

With much love,

In Tribute to the Distinguished HONOREES DR. MIRIAM AND MR. SHELDON G. ADELSON

Your extraordinary generosity, passionate vision, commitment, iron strong convictions and principles are a blessing to humanity and to all causes you support.

Your kind and heartwarming sensitivity to the needs of others touches and enriches the lives of so many.

You are indeed a sparkling beacon of light and hope in our generation, making the world a better place to live in. May you be blessed with good health, good fortune and go from strength to strength for many years to come.

> With High Esteem and Love, Nily Falic and Family

The greatest gift in life is good health. We send this wish to everyone in need of a transplant.

Miri and Sheldon, we are so proud and inspired by your support of Gift of Life's partnership with Birthright and mission to cure blood cancer through stem cell transplants.

YOU ARE THE CURE

CBRE applauds Gift of Life's vital work to facilitate transplants for people battling life-threatening diseases. We are inspired by their determination to make the dream of curing blood cancer a reality. Each time a new potential donor gets swabbed and the organization's registry grows, the gap between patients with life-saving marrow donors and those without gets smaller.

300,000+ THANK-YOUS

On behalf of all those battling blood cancer—thank you. To every volunteer, donor and organizer at Gift of Life: you have our deepest gratitude. We are forever indebted to the organization's 308,748 registered donors who give patients battling serious diseases hope. Your life-saving selflessness greatly increases the odds for patients in need of a transplant to find a match.
